

OPENING

the Word became flesh

If the Word becomes flesh

there is life worth living

If the Word dwells among us

we touch hallowed ground

If the word becomes flesh

there is joy in our bodies

If the Word dwells among us

we hear the voice of creation

If the Word becomes flesh

there is hope in our veins

If the Word dwells among us

we smell the breath of life

If the Word becomes flesh

there is truth in our home

If the Word dwells among us

we taste divinity

If the Word becomes flesh

there is love on our streets

If the Word dwells among us

we see the face of God

CLOSING

and dwelt among us

we see ourselves

God is here

We listen to our words

God is speaking

We breathe together

Truth is sustaining

We taste the future

Life goes on

We reach for the unknown

Hope is leading
